

Mapping the Common Thread Quilt Project

Following is a list of places from where teachers who are sending quilts to Alaska as part of the Common Thread Quilt Project and to where they are going. You can use this list as lesson ideas for your class. Here are some ideas:

- Have students mark all places on a U.S. map. (both sending and receiving)
- Find distances between your town and sending/receiving places.
- Figure how many miles each quilt will travel.
- Figure the average distance the quilts will travel.
- Compare/contrast landforms between areas.
- Map routes to get between places.
- Compare/contrast climates.
- Plan a trip to one of the towns.
- Design a postcard for one of the places.
